"I don't feel like I know what they are anymore...getting lost in marriage and mothering."
"I don't know what my gifts and talents are. I have none."
"Shy, quiet, scared to open up."

Identified themes (based on

 comments)- Don't feel they have anything to offer
- Afraid, shy
- Searching and feel they do not have purpose
- Concern about time commitment
- Procrastination - feel they should do more
- Health issues

Anticipating in-person gatherings

In-church services

Events & programs

Family situation

Learnings

- Provide opportunities to gain knowledge and connection through small groups digitally and in-person, once in-person gatherings resume; selfpaced learning
- Awareness that closeness of some small groups can make others feel alienated and unwelcome. Continue to make an effort, as a church to make everyone feel welcome.

Learnings

- Share the rationale of our vision and mission. Share stories about how we are living our values and striving to achieve our vision and our mission. Provide real life examples of people within our church community who are $\square$ doing this.
- While 75\% agree the church has opportunities to use their gifts and talents, $18 \%$ feel they are not using their gifts or talents and struggle with their purpose and what they have to offer. This is an opportunity to educate people and introduce them to ways in which they can use their gifts and talents to serve others.

Learnings

- Create awareness of the various small groups and programs that do exist and what they offer. There seems to be an overall lack of awareness or misinformation of the programs that exist.
- Empower the congregation. Help people get involved and make the connection THEY are the church. The success of the church and the fulfilment of our values rests on everyone who is part of the church family. As a church family, we embody the values.
- As a church our mission is to make disciples of Jesus... to love God and to love others; this means the people of our church have a responsibility to go out and BE disciples. Empower the church family to go and become disciples of Jesus.
